Indigenous Monitors on the Trans Mountain Expansion Project – Overview

The Trans Mountain Expansion Project (the Project or TMEP) is retaining Indigenous Monitors as integrated members of its construction Environmental Inspection team. Indigenous Monitors work with Environmental Inspectors to monitor compliance with approved mitigation measures to minimize impacts to traditional resource use and cultural/heritage sites during construction.

Operations and maintenance work, including integrity digs and sleeve replacements occurring along the deactivated pipeline segments in the West Barriere region is not part of TMEP nor subject to TMEP Conditions. However, Trans Mountain will be including Indigenous Monitors during certain operations and maintenance work in reactivation areas as it relates to preparing for future TMEP construction activities.

This Overview Report provides highlights of the Indigenous Monitors' day-to-day work and key highlights observed by the Monitors in the Reactivation West Barriere Region (Darfield to Black Pines). The purpose of this report is to provide an update on Indigenous Monitor activity to Indigenous groups. West Barriere Reactivation Region paused construction activities at the end of January 2022 to focus efforts on other work fronts. Construction and inspection activities are currently anticipated to resume at the end of March 2022. The Project Construction Progress Report (Condition 106) for February 2022, which reports environmental events and deficiencies in Tables 4 and 5 respectively, is found here.

The Project has a process for sharing information related to potential Traditional Land Use (TLU) and Heritage Resource chance finds during construction. The Protecting TLU and Cultural Heritage Resources Fact Sheet \(link here\) provides an overview of the chance find communication process. Applicable Indigenous groups are notified and engaged directly on potential chance finds.
