

Trans Mountain Procurement and Employment Opportunities

Trans Mountain is committed to providing Project-related employment and business opportunities for Aboriginal, local and regional groups along the Project corridor. Contractors responsible for building the Project will work with Trans Mountain to select sub-contractors, suppliers and other required vendors.

Trans Mountain is gathering a list of interested vendors through an online procurement registry. Contractors will receive this information to assist with the selection process.

Selection Process for Suppliers

- Trans Mountain and the contractors will each create a short list of companies from the procurement registry
- A Request for Proposal (RFP) will be issued to the top three companies
- The contractors will evaluate completed proposals and notify successful vendors

Procurement Opportunities

Contractors, hired directly by Trans Mountain, will largely conduct the procurement of goods and services for Project construction. Trans Mountain and the selected contractors will work closely to identify the existing business capacities that reside in the Aboriginal, local and regional communities along the Project corridor.

Employment Opportunities

The majority of hiring for the Project will be done by the contractors responsible for building the pipeline and facilities. Interested applicants are encouraged to submit their resumes directly to the selected contractors for their area of interest.
